

MANY STOCK SALES MADE AT THE FAIR

Exhibitors Disposed of Many Animals During the Exhibition Last Week.

Live stock is not exhibited at an agricultural fair for leisure only. The exhibition is to serve as an advertisement and to afford an opportunity for the sale of some of the stock. Some exhibitors are satisfied with the advertisement only as they intend to make a circuit of the fair and do not wish to make immediate sales. Others have some portion of their stock for sale and are disappointed if they return from the fair without the proceeds of several sales to their credit. The great advertisement which the Edmonton fair has been to the live stock exhibitors is evidenced by the inquiries which were made at the grounds for pure bred stock and the number of valuable animals which changed hands before the close of the fair. A feature of the inquiries, and one particularly worthy of notice in a mixed farming district like Edmonton, was the demand for hogs, sheep, dairy cattle and poultry. Horses and pure bred beef cattle were the subject of inquiry but comparatively few changed hands.

Of the registered heavy draught horses on the grounds the most important sale closed was that of Baron Stanley, a yearling colt, owned by T. J. Scott, of North Battleford. This promising animal was sold to Thomas E. Law, of Strathcona, near Lloydminster, for $1,200. Baron Stanley took first in his class at the fair and was a general favorite in the grand heavy draught championship. J. H. Melick, of the Belmont stock farm, was well pleased with his success at the fair. He exhibited a head of Shorthorns and while doing well in the show ring, considered the proceeds of his stock on the grounds a good advertisement for his stable. To a Bulletin representative he said that he has known the Edmonton fair for about eight years and has exhibited for three years. In that time he has seen a steady improvement. This year he thought the fair to have been by far the best in the history of the exhibition association.

Asked as to any inquiries he had received for the purchase of stock, Mr. Melick said that he had sold a calf which was first in the class of under 12 months and that he had received inquiries for two other bull calves. Another inquiry was for a herd of bull and three females from a breeder south of Calgary.

Sheep and Swine Sales.—Of the breedings, some of the sales made were as follows: Stock bear and sows with litter twelve head in all, to Messrs. Sheppard and Hensley, of Strathcona; one pure bred yearling, two months, to D. W. Warburton, of Clover Bar; and several head of male stock to J. R. Matheson, of Union Lake. Mr. Cox readily disposed of his pure bred sheep to Alberta breeders. Andrew Leslie, of Camrose, purchased a pair of Shropshire and Lums, and H. A. Alop, of Onoway, Alta., four Shropshire, one ram and three ewelets each. No sales of hockneys were made as the demand for high class hockneys was not found to be very brisk.

At the prime lot Mr. Cox took ten firsts, eight seconds and three thirds in Berkhires, and ten firsts and two seconds in sheep. His strongest competition was Lew Hutchinson, the Berkhire breeder of Duhamel, with Mr. Cox's herd somewhat depleted by his sales and with entries at the Calgary fair for calendar year hogs. Mr. Hutchinson is expected to make a good second in the show pen.

stock before the public and they feel that they will greatly profit by it in the future. After the fair the public who who is who among the pure bred cattle breeders of Alberta.

Demand for Dairy Cattle.—The great live stock exhibitors, Jersey, Ayrshires and Holsteins, were exhibited at the Edmonton fair. Of the Jersey, Messrs. B. H. Bull and Ben sold almost their entire herd before leaving Edmonton for Calgary, where another train load of stock from the east awaited them. Rice Sheppard, of Strathcona, purchased a herd consisting of four cows and one bull, the latter being imported from Jersey Island and one of the best bred animals in Canada. Mr. Sheppard now has a fine Jersey herd of seven animals, all with a heavy record behind them. P. E. Butchart purchased two pure bred cows for domestic use and a Jersey calf was also purchased by W. I. Crafts, of Clara street.

Airplane Killed.—A. H. Trimble, of Red Deer, had on the grounds some of the best stock of the three car loads of Ayrshires which he has recently imported from Hawick, Que. Over seventy head of cattle were included in the purchase and twenty five head were exhibited and took the bulk of the price at Edmonton. Mr. Trimble had very few of these animals for sale as they had to go to Calgary to be exhibited there. One sale made, however, was a two-year old bull to F. Langston, near Wetaskiwin, for $125. J. A. Davis, of Clover Bar, had no animals on the grounds for sale and J. J. Richards of Red Deer was receiving most of his stock for the exhibition in Calgary this week.

Motorists Badly Burned.—New York, July 4.—Miss Mae Smith, a young society woman of Jersey City, and Andrew McWilliams, a wealthy shipbuilder, were badly burned early today when their automobile collided with a trolley car at Fifteenth street and Ninth avenue, Brooklyn. With the sound of the crashing glass of the trolley, came the explosion of the gasoline tank of the automobile. The next instant the automobile was in flames. The occupants jumped from the machine, but the flames had reached Miss Smith's clothing and her skirt was in flames when she reached the cobble. McWilliams commanded her to "stand still." This order the girl obeyed. Her recent jumper through the flames to her side. Stripping off his long automobile coat, he tried to wrap it about her. But he, too, was ablaze. His clothing was in flames and his fingers were blistering as he tried to wrap the coat about her and he realized that without help he must fail. Both undoubtedly would have been burned to death had not passengers from the trolley car rushed to their aid. The girl's clothing had almost been burned from her body. Her hair and eyebrows were burned off, her face was blistered and her limbs burned.

Visitors Flock to Cobalt.—Cobalt, July 4.—The town is crowded with sight-seers from the three other cities of silverdom, crowding into the silver hub to view the fire mine. Lots will be surveyed to get the proper alignment of the streets and the town will be surveyed further construction of match boxes. Hundreds are going out of town and there is a land boom at North Cobalt and all places within reasonable distance of Cobalt. In the meantime homeless people are sleeping in tents which have been laid out on military lines. The only kick to be experienced workers to raise tents as supplies from Toronto and the militia department are ample. The city is now feeding and housing about 1,500 people in the tented city and public buildings. The total loss is placed at $300,000.

Suicide at Isère.—Barris, Ont., July 4.—Alex. Walker, a resident of the railway ward of the town took a dose of laudanum and died in two hours. He leaves a wife and family.

Among other sales was that of a horse owned by W. Wakefield, of Clover Bar, to D. McLarty, of Veggieville.

Clocks are now being made out for the winners at the Edmonton exhibition and after this week Alberta breeders will be low and say nothing until the approach of the agricultural fair next year.

Aeronaut Killed.—Redding, Cal., July 4.—Capt. James Moore, the Los Angeles aeronaut, who was fatally injured Saturday afternoon when his dirigible airship "America" exploded in mid-air before the gaze of 4,000 people, succumbed to his injuries at 11:45 o'clock Saturday night. He never regained consciousness. Moore's entire body was scorching by the burning gas which escaped from the big airship bag. A. M. Short, who is Moore's halfbrother and also his helper, repeated Moore's last words yesterday: "I am going to make a great success in this flight or go to hades. I have some idea that something is going to happen." Eight minutes after Moore uttered these words he dropped to the earth, a distance of more than 30 feet. The accident was caused by one of the propellers striking the bellying bag, tearing a great gash in the silken covering through which the gas escaped. The spark of the motor in the basket ignited the gas, which exploded with a roaring concussion creating a panic in the crowd below. Many people were knocked down and trampled upon and several were injured.

Failed a Finn Plot.—St. Paul, Minn., July 4.—In connection with the Woodhull incident when this British steamer was fired upon by a Russian torpedo boat for passing too close to the Imperial yacht Standard, with Emperor Nicholas on board in Pitkas Bay a Finnish newspaper published the following: "The strict surveillance of the shipping near Pitkas Bay was due to information received from the Russian Government that the Finns had purchased several thirty-knot motor boats with the intention of using them to sink the Imperial yacht."

Calgary Police Are Having Busy Time.—Calgary, July 3.—The Calgary detachment of the R.S.W.M.P. are working overtime in an endeavor to round up two suspects as being members of the bandit gang who held up the C.P.R. train and also a Bohemian victor, of Stettler, who on June 30th killed the bride of six months by shooting her in the breast with a 30-30 rifle.

Early yesterday morning word was received from Morley, a few miles west, that two men were making for Calgary along the railway track, armed and evidently half dead with fatigue. The description given of the tallest man tallies with that of an eye witness of the hold-up. Indians who saw the men say they went into hiding on being observed. Mounted police are out hot-footed after them and suppose they are waiting their chance to jump a freight. Both men are carrying rifles and a battle may follow.

The Stettler murderer is on the other side of the city from these suspected bandits. Watchers have seen six miles from the scene of the crime, picking it for Calgary. He has a revolver and is said to be crazed with drink.

WORKMEN BURIED WITH TONS OF EARTH

Railway Embankments With Cars and Traveling Cars Slid into the Loose Soil.

Newport, Mont., July 3.—Twenty men, their lives and many others were seriously injured when the shearing of the ground at the construction of the new lock at the entrance to the Alexandria canal gave way today, causing a mass of earth and rocks to slide down the embankment, with cars and other travelling cars, to drop into an embankment in which fifty men were working. The trench, in which the men were working, was fifty feet deep. The shearing of the ground was caused by the toppling of the concrete foundation, when the trench in the middle gave way, causing the rest to collapse. Those at the bottom of the trench had no chance to escape and all of them were buried alive. Many of those working near the surface had a narrow escape from death. Immediately after the collapse of the wall, the work of rescue was begun. Three men who were buried beneath fifteen feet of wreckage were taken out, and the bodies of four men, pinned in further down were found. The work of rescue is being made to rescue them. It is estimated that it will take all night to get to the bottom of the trench. The coming tide made the work of rescue exceedingly difficult. The men were put to work to build a bulkhead to keep out the encroaching water and prevent them still alive from being drowned. Four of the men have been rescued and will be in a week before them at the bottom of the excavation will be rescued.
